“

During my first web experiences, creation and liberty became my leitmotifs. To reach this goal, the clearest solution was to create our company, but it was evident I shouldn't start alone. Fabien also wanted to go into business, and he had all the assets to be successful. He was bursting with innovative ideas, he got high technical skills, and he had a very good flair for human relations.

Cédric Hamel - CTO & co-founder

“

The love of challenge and the desire for independence pushed me to create my company. I had already worked with my friend Cédric. I had total faith in his genius, study skills, short execution and the ingenuity of his technical solutions.

Fabien Versange - CEO & co-founder

- Having an impact
- Knowing how to question yourself

Company presentation

The story of SiteW

We are a French company created in 2009 by two friends, Cédric and Fabien (see photo) whose main objective is to enable everyone to create a website without technical skills.

SiteW is the solution to create an effective website, by yourself, easily and quickly.

We have set up in the country since 10 years, and we have taken an uncommon path in the digital world. We have solid values, and we develop a cutting-edge technology for as many people as possible.

Company presentation

SiteW commitments

We really want to be useful.

We take as many actions as possible to play a part in this committed world. We think that our corporate responsibility is to be part of this changing world.

The most curious of you can discover all the details of our three commitments, directly on our website.

Committed to our users.

Committed to the world around us.

Committed to the company itself.
